EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

An Enormous Swindle.

New York, Sept. 6—Revelations have been made that nearly $250,000 of the assets of the Brooklyn Trust Company are bonds [illegible] Philadelphia Sewing Machine Company secured by officers of the Trust Company, they having drawn money from the latter giving said bonds as collateral. The death of President Mills led to a stoppage of funds for the Sewing Machine Company, the hands of which have not been paid for four weeks, and the Company is bankrupt.

Detectives Speculating on the Latest Mystery.

New York, Sept. 6—It is now stated that detectives believe that Mrs Hammill, whose body was found burned and with a cord about the neck, in a house on Ninth street, Brooklyn, was murdered for her money. James and Sarah Merriman, at whose house the affair occurred, were arrested to-day.

A [illegible].

New York, Sept 6—The settlement of the Geneva award by Great Britain and the final payment by France to Germany on account of the war indemnity occurred to-day. The final payment on account of the Geneva award was one million dollars, of which $239,740 was paid in called bonds and the balance in gold. These two important events attracted much attention in financial circles to-day.

[illegible] at Another Black Friday.

The Commercial says Wall street is wild with rumors relating to the inability of leading bulls [illegible] to make good their engagements. Indeed it is circulated on the street that nearly [illegible] that is closely connected with the [illegible] in the bull market, will go by the Board and be [illegible] ruined. Leading banks who have [illegible] brokers of the bulls have deserted them, and are now trying to secure themselves. [illegible] are the rumors on the street.

A One Horse Tornado.

Springfield, Mass., Sept 5—A tornado [illegible] through Granby, Hampshire county, [illegible] afternoon, entirely demolishing the house and barn of Edwin Slater and unroofing other [illegible], destroying crops, etc. Northampton had a similar visitation in the evening, when the barn of Albert [illegible]weather was blown down. Williams' factory was partly demolished and Clapp's foundry unroofed. The path of the latter gale extended across the town from the east and was only ten rods wide.

A Huge Defalcation.

Chicago, Sept 5—Colonel John Harper, U. S. Collector for the 8th Illinois District, is reported to be a defaulter to the Government in sums variously estimated at from $50,000 to $300,000. It is supposed that he has gone west. His bond is for $200,000, and will probably cover the amount of his defalcation.

[illegible], Another Big Fire in Chicago.

A fire last night destroyed the Phoenix planing mill, [illegible] Sangamon and Carroll streets. Loss $300,000, partly insured.

[illegible] of the Fashion Stables Arrested.

Philadelphia, Sept. 5—Morris Purpil was arrested here to-night on a charge of having fired the Fashion Stables at Trenton. Purpil was discharged from Doble's employ on Tuesday while intoxicated, and on Wednesday he was heard to make threats that the stables [illegible] not stand another week. He will be sent to Trenton.

[illegible] Three! Follow Me!

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 5—At two o'clock this morning a body of horsemen entered Charlestown, [illegible], and posted the following notice all over town:

"To Andrew Reynolds and wife, Samuel [illegible] Stone, Edward [illegible] and [illegible] H. Carney: You are hereby notified to leave the State of Indiana within fifteen days from date or abide the consequences. A few [illegible] of the above parties will take warning, as threats have been made against the [illegible]. Any overt act in Charlestown or vicinity will be held against the parties [illegible] 'One, Two, Three! Follow me!' [illegible] 1873." Considerable excitement prevailed all day in Charlestown.

[illegible] of the Immutable and [illegible]

Austin, Texas, Sept. 5—The Democratic [illegible] adopted a platform very long and diffuse, reaffirming the principles of the [illegible], partly favoring internal improvements by the State and the encouragement [illegible] by liberal charters and grants [illegible] and denying [illegible] any repudiation of [illegible]. The following was adopted: [illegible] we deprecate the action of the [illegible] members of Congress in co-operating with the Republican majority and President [illegible] the passage of the back-pay bill." The [illegible] is the ticket nominated: For Governor, Richard Coke; Lieutenant Governor, [illegible]; Comptroller, Stephen H. [illegible]; [illegible] J. Dorn; Commissioner of Land [illegible]; Superintendent of [illegible] Ashworth.

[illegible], Sept. 6—Edward Moore, arrested at [illegible] on the 11th ult., charged with poisoning his mother-in-law, Mrs Wartemberg, and [illegible] her death, committed suicide at the county jail.

Fatal Calamity.

Detroit, Sept 6—At Corunna last night, a portion of the roof of the new round house of the Michigan Central railroad at Detroit Junction fell, instantly killing J. S. Schwartz and C. Mack, and fatally injuring Thomas [illegible].

[illegible] of a Coroner's Jury on a Railway Murder.

A Coroner's jury on the Davidson Railroad [illegible] find that Wm Brown, brakeman of the express train was criminally guilty of disobeying the order of conductor Knill to go back further to warn a freight train. They also find conductor Sherrin, engineer [illegible], and brakemen Conley and Law, of the freight train, guilty of criminal negligence, the engineer for running at a greater speed than the rules of the company allow, the conductor for not having the brakesmen at their posts, and the brakesmen for not being at their posts. The men are all in custody except Brown, who is in Canada.

For [illegible] and the Holy Land.

New York, Sept 6—Prof James Strong, of the Drew Seminary and Chief of the Oriental Topographical Corps, is organizing an expedition for visiting Egypt, Asia Minor and Palestine. He will start about Christmas. A large staff of engineers, scientists and artists will accompany him and also a select party of tourists.

Lawyer Arrested for Altering Bonds.

James M. Johnson, the Williamsburg lawyer who was arrested on Sunday [illegible] alleged altering of the Buffalo, N. Y. and Erie Railroad bonds, has been indicted.

Butler's Figures.

Boston, Sept 6—At Butler's headquarters in this city the delegates to the Republican State Convention are said to stand 310 for Butler and 293 for Washburn.

Yellow Fever in Texas.

New Orleans, Sept [illegible]—[illegible] regarding the yellow fever in Galveston and Shreveport. Private [illegible] state that Houston has been quarantined against Galveston [illegible] they are stopping all through travel. The Central railroad has placed a special train at the service of delegates to start [illegible] Sunday morning.

Found Dead.

New York, Sept. 6—[illegible] Lamont, broker at [illegible] street, was [illegible] in an area in front of his residence on Fifth Avenue this morning. It is supposed that he accidentally fell from his window.

[illegible] and a Father's Revenge.

Detroit, Sept. 6—Peter Jeannot, father of a little girl who was outraged by James Canavan, in Muskegon on Monday night, went to the jail to-day and asked permission to [illegible] prisoner, which was granted by the Sheriff. [illegible] stepped to the [illegible] cell where the villain was [illegible] took [illegible] from his [illegible] and shot Canavan in the [illegible]. [illegible] was taken before Justice Hoyt and admitted bail. On Monday last Canavan enticed the little girl, only nine years old, into the woods where he kept her all night foully outraging her. Search was made for the child during the night by the alarmed parents, but it was not until daylight the fiend let her go, and she can hardly walk. Canavan was arrested on Tuesday morning and lodged in jail. The girl died on the following morning.

Confession of a Murderess.

New York, Sept 6—The late Williamsburg horror is now explained. Mrs Merriman is reported to have confessed to the police that she murdered Mrs Hamill on Wednesday evening last. [illegible] in possession of Mrs Hamill was the motive. After perpetrating the deed the body was placed under the bed where it remained till Thursday evening. Mrs Merriman confesses she set fire to the room in which the body was subsequently discovered [illegible] and scorched.

A[illegible] of the Nathan Murderer's Wife.

New York, Sept 6—Captain Kennedy has found Mrs Irving, wife of John T. Irving, the self confessed murderer of Nathan, now arrested in San Francisco. The police are reticent and merely admit that they have Irving's wife under surveillance.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Washington, Sept 5—The Secretary of the Navy has received from Peterman, the celebrated German geographer, a complete chart and report of the Polaris expedition. The document, however, is in German, and is now in the hands of the translator. The report will be published.

Final Payment of the Geneva Award.

Washington, Sept 6—The syndicate yesterday completed a transaction connected with the payment of the Alabama indemnity money, having delivered to the British Consul at New York a receipt from the United States Treasury for the last Treasury balance of $190,000 in coin to make up the full amount of $15,500,000 which is now in the Treasury subject to the order of the British Government. On the 6th inst., the day on which the award is due, a formal transfer will be made and the necessary exchanges will be made between the State and Treasury Departments, representing the United States, and Minister Thornton, representing the Government of Great Britain.

Indian Affairs.

Washington, Sept 6—The Commissioner of Indian affairs denies the truth of a report that supplies of inferior quality have been forced upon Indian agents in Arizona by outside pressure at exorbitant prices. The report probably arose from a recent order of the Department to an agent in that Territory to withdraw an unauthorized and unwarranted advertisement for supplies, for which provision had already been made in the usual manner and at the lowest market rates. All supplies that can be had in the Territory are purchased there.

Dyer Speaks.

Mr Dyer of Indian Peace Commission, who was here, says that in the recent war with the Modocs our soldiers killed only four Modocs while the Modocs killed two soldiers for each Modoc engaged in war.

Another Defaulting Collector.

Chas S. Ramsburg, Deputy Collector of taxes for the District of Columbia, was arrested to-day on information by Collector Slater charging him with receiving money on account of taxes in Georgetown for which he failed to account. Supposed defalcation will be from $10,000 to $15,000. Ramsburg admits he collected money, but gives as excuse that he used it in order to relieve himself from pecuniary business embarrassment, and with expectation of being able to replace it.

MEXICO.

Rumors of War from Monterey.

New Orleans, Sept 6—Matamoras news from Monterey continues to indicate a probable outbreak in that city in consequence of the contest for the election of Governor for the State of Nueva Leon. General Garcia Ayala having received a majority of the popular vote over either of his competitors, his friends are sanguine of success in the Legislature upon which a choice now depends. The present State government is bitterly opposed to Gen Ayala and has organized a military force and is guarding the palace. Several chiefs of the revolution of last year who are in sympathy with the State authorities have reached Monterey, and have taken up quarters there. The Federal Government which is supposed to favor Garcia Ayala has ordered several companies of cavalry from San Luis Potosi to Monterey, and their arrival is daily looked for.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Resignation of the Madrid Ministry.

London, Sept. 5—A dispatch from Madrid announces that the Ministry has resigned.

Illness of the Pope.

Rome, Sept 5—The Pope is again indisposed.

Wreck of a Steamship.

Swatow, Sept. 5—The mail steamship Walrus, from Hongkong for Yokohama, struck off Chimney Head to-day and leaked so badly that she had to be beached. The cargo is slightly damaged. Mails, specie and passengers will be transhipped.

From Paris.

Paris, Sept 6—It is stated upon authority that the Suez Canal Company are levying dues upon vessels passing through the canal below the limit fixed by Sultan.

NEVADA.

Eureka, Sept 7—A railway accident yesterday resulted in painful injury to a man named Parker Tucker. He was picked up insensible and badly bruised about the face and breast, but no bones were broken.

The diamond pointed steam drill received by the Eureka Consolidated Company was yesterday put in operation upon their ground on Ruby Hill. It is the intention to thoroughly prospect the [illegible] with this machine by perforating the surface in many places and taking assays from the [illegible] samples taken out.

UTAH.

Salt Lake, Sept 6—A portion of the Yale College scientific expedition have arrived here from Wyoming Territory. They will examine the leading mining districts. The party had a severe and prolonged [illegible] with a grizzly bear in the Uintah Mountains. After many narrow escapes and serious injury to the guide at the paws of the bear the animal was finally killed. No others are being hunted.

Brigham Young and party returned to-day from Soda Springs [illegible] improved health.

Charles W. Merrill while administering a vapor bath at Bingham yesterday was fatally injured by the explosion of a lamp and inhaling fire. He was dreadfully burned, the skin dropping off. The patient broke away and jumped through the window to the ground and was slightly injured.

The city [illegible] the gamblers yesterday [illegible] expected [illegible].

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

San Francisco, Sept 6—[illegible] of John Gallagher, who was admitted to bail in $10,000 and released [illegible].

Large numbers of people have gone to witness the [illegible] Oakland View [illegible].

About 10 o'clock last night William Dwyer, a well known pugilist, and Dick Harrington [illegible] saloon on Kearny street. [illegible] the fight was resumed. Harrington plunged a knife into Dwyer's breast [illegible] was Dave Tolan [illegible] Harrington [illegible] custody.

San Francisco, Sept 6—The races [illegible] Irene Harding won the two mile running race, time 3:48. Hazel took the [illegible] and [illegible] Kate [illegible] the hurdle race [illegible].

The post mortem examination of the body of [illegible] Dwyer showed two [illegible]. The point of the knife was left in the last [illegible] which severed the femoral artery.

James, who shot John Gallagher, declines to accept bail. He says he prefers to be discharged by the [illegible] court.

Dispatches from New York indicate that the police authorities of that city believe Irving's story about the Nathan murder and will [illegible]. Hermann is in jail in good health and spirits.

The California Election.

Twelve hundred ballots remain to be counted to complete the return.

Otis (Dolly Varden) for Mayor is 900 ahead now. Returns will probably not change this majority much.

Crowley for Chief of Police is 2,000 behind Cockrill.

The anti-monopoly Legislative ticket is still ahead.

Murphy for District Attorney is probably defeated by a small majority by Ryan, Democrat.

The returns will not be completed before to-night.

Later returns indicate that the whole anti-monopoly Legislative ticket is elected by a good majority, with six precincts to hear from.

Otis, for Mayor, is nearly 1,000 ahead of McDonald.

Crowley will be defeated by about 2,000.

McKibben (Tax Payer) for Sheriff is nearly 3,000 ahead of White so far on the count.

The election returns are not all in and the count in several of the precincts will not be finished before Monday. The vote at present stands as follows: Senators—Sears 5,76[illegible], [illegible] 6,438, Hallidie [illegible], Bartlett [illegible], Roach 9,891. Mayor—McDonald 11,322, Otis 12,604. The Sheriff, District Attorney, Chief of Police official—thirty seven precincts, five of which are incomplete, make the following returns: Sheriff—White 9,989, McKibben 13,482. District Attorney—Ryan 9,180, Murphy 8,886. Porter [illegible]. Chief of Police—Cockrill 13,085, Crowley 10,278. Superintendent of Schools—Denman (Dem) 17,147, Widber (People's) 10,561. Fire Commissioners—Sloss 11,58[illegible], Patrick 10,[illegible], Edwards 11,20[illegible], Beck 10,790. Assembly (official) for H. I. Irving and M. M. Lane—thirty seven precincts and the count as far as progressed in two precincts—Irving 8,868, Lane 9,119. The Dolly Varden Assembly ticket is far ahead of both the other tickets. Ryan, District Attorney, is probably elected also. Denman, Democratic candidate for Superintendent of Schools. The election of McKibben, Tax payers' candidate for Sheriff, is conceded.

San Francisco, Sept 7—Full returns to-night give the following result: Senate—Hallidie, Ind, 9,813; Bartlett, Ind, 9,884; Roach, Dem, 10,111; McCoppin, Dem, 8,527. The rest of the Dolly Varden Legislative ticket is elected except Delancy, who is beaten by Howe 100 votes. For Mayor—Otis, Ind, 13,601; McDonald, Tax payer, 12,404. Sheriff—McKibben, Ind, 15,158; White, Dem, 11,164. Chief of Police—Crowley, Ind, 11,352; Cockrill, Dem, 14,514. Bauer, Ind, Treasurer 13,000; Hubert, Dem, 13,160. Herman, Ind, Recorder 10,908; Frank, Dem, 14,676. D. J. Murphy, Ind, for District Attorney is beaten by a small majority. Scannell for Chief Engineer is elected. It is said that Whitney, the present incumbent, will demand a recount. Denman, Dem, is elected Superintendent of Schools over Widber, Ind. The remainder of the Dolly Varden ticket, with few exceptions, is elected.

Interior California.

Truckee, Sept 6—Last night at 9 o'clock a shooting affray took place between two gamblers named respectively Andy Fugate and Jack White. Two shots were exchanged, resulting fatally to all concerned. Fugate was struck three times, dying almost instantly, one shot taking effect in the heart. White received three balls, one in the lungs, one in the groin, and one in the abdomen. He died. The scene of the affray was on Front street. Strangely enough no one else was injured.

Los Angeles, Sept 6—Sheriff Adams and posse arrived last night in close pursuit of Vasquez and his gang. The trail was lost from Elizabeth lake but again resumed. Vasquez was closely followed toward [illegible] Pass. Sheriff Rowland of this county and a party of five had joined Adams, who had a party of eight. Together they started on the trail at 10 o'clock. Vasquez and his gang—in all eight men—at 11 o'clock last night were in Tejunga canyon heading towards [illegible]. It is evident that the bandits are pushing towards Arizona. The Sheriffs' parties, numbering fifteen men, expect to head them towards Tejon pass. It was reported at the Tejunga house that Vasquez had sent two of his band ahead to steal fresh horses, their own stock being used up. The Sheriffs are confident of being able to overtake the bandits before they can reach the desert.

A letter from San Bernardino says that Capt N. J. [illegible], People's candidate for Assembly, has been elected by 15 majority. A. J. Curry, Democratic candidate for Sheriff, was elected by 50 majority.

Sutter Creek, Sept 6—Antonio Robles, one of four men that escaped from the Lincoln mine yesterday, died last night in great agony. Up to 8 this evening only four bodies had been recovered from the mine. The company, assisted by the foremen and workmen of the Amador mine, is doing everything that can be done to get at the remaining eight bodies. They have [illegible] men at work forcing the foul air out by [illegible]. It is hoped all the bodies will be taken out by to-morrow morning.

Vallejo, Sept. 6—Rich specimens of cinnabar have been found on land belonging to Mrs Clark, on the road from Benicia to Suisun. Two Cornishmen left yesterday to prospect.

Sutter Creek, Sept 7—At 10 o'clock last night while hoisting water at the Lincoln mine to lower it so as to get into the lower level, the lost bodies, a bell was rung from below, causing most intense excitement. On hoisting the bucket a man by the name of Bath was [illegible] shouting, as he came up, "I'm all right! Three more men are alive down there." The news was given throughout the town. Business men closed their [illegible] and rushed with men, women and children from all parts of the town to the mine. [illegible] and rescued the three [illegible]. They say their level was on an incline, the [illegible] water filled them [illegible] level, preventing the foul air from reaching them [illegible] number. Thirty six hours in all [illegible] and two men drowned trying to reach the shaft before the water was lowered. All the bodies are recovered now except Dennis Lynch. He is supposed to be in the [illegible].

[illegible], Sept 7—[illegible] Bayless, a wagon maker by trade and an old resident of Georgetown, committed suicide to-day by hanging himself. He was a quiet, peaceable citizen, aged 42 years. [illegible] relatives here.

San Diego, Sept 7—Sheriff [illegible] and a [illegible] captured a wounded Mexican who with another killed [illegible] in the [illegible]. The other escaped. [illegible] horses having given out. [illegible] dispatched [illegible] ordered him to surrender. He [illegible] killed.

[illegible] the well known [illegible] was recently waited upon by [illegible] instant [illegible] the documents [illegible] to call on the next day for the others. [illegible] while of course the ruffian was arrested.

OREGON ANNUAL CONFERENCE

[Our regular report of the day's proceedings failed to reach us, but through the kindness of a gentleman at Olympia we are furnished with the following special account of the doings of the above named body on that day.—Ed. Oregonian.]

Third Day.

Olympia, Sept 5, 1873.

Last evening the M. E. Church was crowded to excess by members of all denominations listening to an address by Rev. Mr. Wilbur, and the prayer meeting this morning was well attended, showing that the work is still progressing.

The session was called to order this morning at 9 A. M. After reading the minutes of yesterday's proceedings, Elder W. Roberts proceeded to report on the progress and financial state of the Pacific Christian Advocate.

Report of Elder H. K. Hines on Walla Walla District.

The report of the Rev. Mr. Wilbur, missionary to the Indians, was heard with interest and made a showing of 150 converts amongst the Yakamas, some 30 among the Warm Spring Indians, and the total number of Indian converts probably about 250 this year. In piety the Indians seem equal if not superior to the whites, sparing no trouble in attending church, even walking from six to twelve miles to worship. In contributing to the cause the Indians have not been behindhand, their collections amounting to between $200 and $300.

Christian greetings were exchanged between this Conference and the Congregational Church, through the Rev. Mr. Huntington, of the latter church.

The motion to divide the Oregon Conference into two conferences, taking the Cascade mountains as the boundary line, was laid over to be considered at 10 A. M. to-morrow.

Five candidates (two of whom were Indians) for ordination appeared, and were duly examined and approved.

The collection for printing minutes being in order, 600 copies were subscribed for by the members of the Conference present, the names of absentees to be called again to-morrow.

Resolutions of sympathy with the Rev. T. I. Woodward were passed, after which the Bishop stated that the Conference would probably close the session on Monday.

Several notices having been read, the benediction was pronounced and the Conference adjourned till 9 A. M. to-morrow.

THE SCHOOL READERS.

Oregon City, Sept 6, 1873.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

The question what series of readers shall be adopted for the Common Schools in this State? or rather, shall the Pacific Coast series of readers be adopted? seems to be the principal theme of discussion at present in the State press. Opinions are expressed, pro and con, in regard to the merits of this series, and as to whether they shall be adopted as the text book in that branch of study, for the next four years, in our Public Schools. Against this series quite a stand has been taken, with how much reason we shall see. With all due deference to the honesty of purpose of those opposed to the introduction of these books, I think their reasoning very superficial, if not, at times, absurd.

Your Salem correspondent "47" does not seem to have seen the books at all, but founded his opposition to them upon rumor and hearsay. But your Oregon City correspondent "A. B." says he has read the first and second readers carefully, therefore to his arguments will this letter be directed. "A. B." seems in his opposition to have drawn upon his imagination for his facts and upon his prejudices for his deductions. I have seldom seen a letter of the same length that contained so many inaccuracies. "A. B." says the authors are not teachers and therefore they cannot write good school books. I do not see that the conclusion follows from the fact. The work shows for itself. What difference whether the author is a teacher or lawyer, or hod-carrier, if the work meets the wants of the schools better than any other. If this is the best book we can find to supply a certain place, then we want it. Can "A. B." point out to me an author of a reader in use in this State who has been a teacher? "A. B." intimates that he is or has been a teacher and says that "no live practical teacher can pronounce them successes." Now sir, I belong to that profession, am a teacher of perhaps greater experience than "A. B.," and I give it as my deliberate, unqualified opinion that they are better than any other reader or series of readers now in use in this State. Nor am I alone in this opinion. The majority of the teachers in the State who have examined these books (not the First and Second only, but the Third and Fourth also) are in favor of their adoption and introduction into our public schools. I am in possession of a private letter from one of the most prominent teachers in the State in regard to these books—one whom, were I to mention his name, even "A. B." would acknowledge as good authority on school books—in which he unreservedly declares his preference for these books over all others, and ends by hoping the State Board would adopt them among the school text books.

But "A. B." says the authors claim that the matter of which they are composed is new, and proceeds to attack them on that score. I have read over the prefaces of these two books—First and Second Readers—and have been unable to find any such language. The nearest approach to it I am able to find is the following, from the preface to the Second Reader: "The reading matter is mainly original. A few articles have been re-written and adapted from other sources, but none that are known to be in any other school readers. Our aim has been to prepare simple and attractive lessons which will impart useful information and teach sound morality." Now, Mr. Editor, what reasonable man, be he teacher or otherwise, can object to that?

"A. B." further says that he has given the first two of the series a careful perusal, and that he has been unable to find but one allusion to the Deity, and that a very remote one. Now, Mr. Editor, I have not given those two books a careful perusal like "A. B.," but in a hasty glance of less than five minutes through them I find the name God thirteen times in as many lessons. I also find Jesus [illegible] in other places. Now sir, what do you think of "A. B.'s" careful perusal? If he had said careless instead of careful it would have been more appropriate. A blind man could have come within one of doing as well as he. [illegible] less than twenty lessons in the two books which are manifestly moral in their tendency. There are as many more from which a skillful teacher might deduce and apply a moral. As "A. B." may think I am joking about this matter, I will, for his personal satisfaction as well as [illegible] his moral edification, request him [illegible] to pick up his First and Second Readers from the place he threw them in his pet [illegible] and look at the following lessons, viz: First Reader [illegible] 40, 49, 51 and [illegible]; Second Reader—[illegible] and 69.

Now, "A. B.," [illegible] do you feel [illegible] after having read these lessons? What do you think of them morally? [illegible] you think any [illegible] taught them [illegible]?

Wheat is worth 90 cents per bushel at Salem.

Rev. Father [illegible], Catholic clergyman at Salem, is reported seriously ill.

J. A. Miller, of Lane county, harvested over 1,400 bushels of wheat from 30 acres.

The farmers on Yaquina Bay have nearly all finished harvesting; their principal crop is hay. The potatoes will be almost a failure this year.

A few days since Mr William Millhorn sold forty acres of land at Junction to Dan Lest for $1,200.

Some aspirant for glory cheap and bloodless is endeavoring to get up a military company at Eugene.

Mr Cooper, living about two miles from Dallas, has killed about three thousand squirrels within the last year.

The taxable property in Polk county the present year will exceed $1,600,000, after deducting indebtedness.

The crops in Union county are the best ever known there. The quantity of all kinds of grain raised there this season is very large.

The Democratic delegates to the State Convention from Coos county are Thomas B. Merry, F. G. Lockhart and Capt. W. H. Harris.

The Delegates to the Republican State Convention from Benton county are A. M. Witham, Samuel Case, W. B. Carter, J. Brownson and Sol King.

Benton county Democrats send as delegates to their State Convention, J. C. Avery, R. S. Strahan, A. Johnson, J. I. Halter, J. S. Palmer and John Foster.

Posters for the Jackson County Fair, to be held on the 24th inst., have been issued and the Agricultural Society is making preparations for the event.

The taxable property of Jackson county, as returned by the Assessor, and corrected by the Board of Equalization, is $1,729,116, quite an increase on last year.

Some burglars made a raid on the residence of C. C. Beekman, of Jacksonville, one night last week and got away with that gentleman's pantaloons, containing a few dollars.

By failing to give this paper proper credit, the Republican makes it appear that the steamship John L. Stephens succeeded in getting as far into the country as Dallas, last week.

The oldest son of Mr Samuel Hawkins, of Antelope, Jackson county, met with a serious accident last Saturday. He was kicked by a horse, fracturing the under jaw in two places.

The Grant County Republican Convention instructed its delegates, W. V. Rhinehart and Abram Eades, to vote for the nomination of Hon. B. Whitten as the candidate for Congress.

Mr Elisha Livingston has brought to the Plaindealer office a large piece of pure chalk, which he found in Douglas county. The deposit is sufficiently extensive to supply the whole coast.

On Wednesday, the 3d, at Union, Mr Thos. Wright, merchant at that place, had his foot caught in the gearing of a flouring mill, which horribly mangled his toes and foot nearly up to the instep.

Jackson county levies the following tax this year: School tax, 3 mills; State tax, 5½ mills; county tax, 7 mills; special tax, ½ mill; building tax, 2 mills; poll tax—State, $1, county, $1, hospital, $2.

On last Sunday morning Mr Isidore Wollenberg, at Roseburg, was sitting in a window reading when the heavy sash came suddenly down upon his head with such force as to render him senseless.

Judge L. L. McArthur will leave the Dalles for Canyon City on next Thursday, the 11th instant, to hold the regular term of Court at that place, which is to commence on the third Monday of September.

Joseph Black has been authorized to build the trestle work across the tide lands at Depot Slough, in connection with the bridge on the Pioneer and Newport road. This will be good news for Yaquina Bay people.

Lane county Democrats send the following Delegates to the State Convention: R. B. Cochran, John Whiteaker, J. J. Walton Jr, E. W. Rhea, F. L. Bristow, J. M. Thompson, James McClaren, J. F. Amis and G. W. Rinehart.

Lieutenant Boutelle, late of Fort Klamath, passed through Jacksonville last Wednesday en route for Fort Lapwai, I. T., where he has been ordered. He was all through the Modoc war, from the first fight on Lost river until its final termination.

A hunting party, composed of Judge Prim, ex-Sheriff Reams, John Miller and D. W. Cox, went on a hunt last week to Lost Prairie, some forty six miles from Jacksonville. Although they were out but a few days, they killed sixteen deer and an elk.

On Thursday morning last week George Ross, of Philomath, was picked up insensible near the house of Mr James at the Soap creek crossing. He had been driving a wagon, and, it is supposed, was thrown off, the team running away and dragging him some distance.

The Democratic County Convention of Wasco met on Wednesday of last week. O. S. Savage was elected Chairman and H. M. Beall Secretary. The following gentlemen were chosen as delegates to the State Convention: O. Humason, O. S. Savage, A. Swift, J. Moran, James Croson.

The levy on the assessment of Clatsop county for the year 1873 was made by the County Court as follows: For State purposes, 4 mills; for schools, 3 mills; for county purposes, 11½ mills—total 20 mills. The assessed valuation is $550,000, making the tax for the year $11,000.

Mr William Crump met with a painful, if not serious, accident the other day in Salem by falling from a scaffold on which he was walking. At first he was not thought to be much injured, but after a few days he began to feel the effects of the fall, and [illegible] is threatened.

An individual who signs himself Eld. D. D. Reed, Missionary, has been lecturing up the Valley on The Prophecies, the Lord's Second Advent, the Resurrection of the Dead, the Reward of the Just, the [illegible] and Kingdom of God, the End of the Wicked, Immortality, and other Bible Subjects.

On Wednesday of last week Hon. John R. McLain, of Wingville, Baker county, met with an accident by which his right leg above the knee was broken. He had his foot caught in the [illegible] of a harrow which was attached to a horse. The horse started and ran, dragging Mr McLain some twenty five yards.

The names of the Lost river murderers who are to be turned over to the [illegible] are: [illegible] Hooker Jim, [illegible] Curly headed Doctor, Long Jim, Little George, Scarchin's brother, Wild Gal's Man, Wild Gal's brother, [illegible] Little Jim, Curly headed Doctor's brother, Long Jim's father, Big [illegible], Big [illegible]'s boy.

Three new warehouses for the storage of wheat have been erected at Junction this summer: one by C. W. Washburn, one by Louis Salomon, and one by an association of farmers. This gives Junction six warehouses, with capacity of 140,000 bushels. It is estimated that there will be 250,000 bushels of wheat shipped from that place this fall.

The Oregon Packing Company have commenced operation for next season's salmon fishing on a large scale at a new establishment to be put up a short distance below Westport. Mr J. W. Cook, of Portland, is one of the principal parties in this new company. A gang of workmen were landed on the spot to begin operations last Thursday.

The Astorian of last Saturday says: A huge land slide started near the head of Jefferson street night before last, where Messrs [illegible] and Gray are getting earth to fill the court house block. The slide extends from a point about fifty yards up the side of the bluff, and takes in an area nearly or quite one acre. The crevice opened by the slide was about twenty five inches wide last evening.

The Roseburg Plaindealer says: "Mr Levi Knott came down from the quartz mines last week. He had cleaned up after a short run with their five stamp mill, with satisfactory results. He will return again shortly. The placer mines on Steamboat creek are paying three dollars a day on the lower bar. On the upper bar they have not yet been able to save all the gold, which is very fine."

By a member of the Gesner surveying party the Journal is informed that quite a large extent of excellent land is being sectionized in Lane county. Most of it is on the McKenzie, South Fork and Horse creek bottoms, but fine bodies of land are also found on the divides between and east of the Hot Springs. Tracts of the finest timber of the common varieties are found there, interspersed with groves of sugar, and silver or white pine.

The Mountaineer publishes statistics of Wasco county, from the Assessor's books, as follows: Number of cattle, 24,309; horses, 4,728; sheep, 13,000; swine, 720. There is yet about 2,000 head of cattle to be accounted for, and some 4,000 head of sheep that have arrived from the Willamette Valley this season, that were assessed there. The number of taxpayers this year is 800. Last year there were but 539 names on the assessment roll.

That the course of true love never does run smooth, was never more forcibly illustrated than in Roseburg a few days ago. An ardent swain, failing to secure the approval of the father of his dulcinea, arranged an elopement in the usual form. The romance of the affair was spoiled by the indignant parent, who, having discovered the plot, proceeded to administer to the young gentleman a terrible thrashing. It is not likely that the attempt will be renewed, at least until the victim is able to see.

From the Plaindealer, of Roseburg: "The wheat crop in this county is not only large but the grain is generally of an excellent quality. It is rapidly coming into market, nearly one hundred thousand bushels having been sold already, according to the best data we can obtain. On yesterday the price of good merchantable wheat was seventy-five cents a bushel and the sacks furnished. We hear some complaints from the buyers that the wheat is not properly cleaned. If our farmers expect to receive a full price for their grain they should see that it is delivered in good shape."

The Agricultural and Wool-growers' Association of Douglas county met at the Court House on Saturday, the 30th of August. In the absence of the President, the Vice P[illegible] presided. W. F. Owens was chosen Secretary pro tem. The object for which the Association met was the discussion of the propriety of forming a County Grange at Roseburg. F. R. Hill delivered an address upon the subject, when the Association arrived at the conclusion that the movement was the best plan the farmers could adopt to secure the full reward of their labor. The names of twenty farmers and a number of ladies were subscribed for the purpose of organizing a grange on or about the 15th day of September.

The Plaindealer says: It has been known for some time that there was a deposit of coal on Pass creek, on the land of Mr J. J. Comstock, as well as on the railroad lands. Recent explorations have established the fact that it exists in sufficient quantities to pay for working, and is of a superior quality to any hitherto found on the coast. Ben Holladay and Mr Comstock have formed a partnership for this purpose, and will proceed at once to open the lead and bring the coal into market. Its proximity to the road will enable the company to furnish it at a price which will not only defy competition, but will bring it into general use in the State. The importance of this enterprise to the interior of the State cannot be overestimated.

From the Jacksonville Times we gather the following items from the late seat of war: "The Klamath Indians express great indignation at the liberties allowed Scar-faced Charley and the scouts who deserted Capt. Jack and helped General Davis, declaring that if Jack and the others that were convicted are hanged, Charley and the other scouts will never leave the country alive. Not long ago Scar faced and Bogus Charley were armed and sent after two deserters, whom they caught. This so incensed the soldiers that they swear vengeance on those two worthies. There is some fear of trouble with the Klamaths when the Modocs are executed. The following companies are now at Klamath: Captain Hasbrouck's Battery B, Fourth Artillery; Capt. Kingsbury's Company I, Twelfth Infantry; Captain Noyes' Company I, Twelfth Infantry; Captain Pollock's Company F, Twenty fifth Infantry. Captain Hasbrouck, with a detachment of fifteen men, has gone to the scene of the massacre of Captain Thomas' command in the lava bed on the 27th of May, for the purpose of bringing the remains of Lieutenant Cranston and others to Fort Klamath."

The Idaho Statesman of September 2d has this: "Judge R. L. Gillespie lies in a very critical condition, and is not expected to live. About three years ago he was struck with paralysis on one side, and has never recovered, but has been gradually growing worse. He has been able to be about until a week [illegible]; since then he has been confined to his bed, and is beyond all hope of recovery."

The Olympia Courier says: "The farmers of this portion of the Territory are menaced with a serious blow to their prosperity. The quantity and quality of the potato crop have always been our boast, but now the rot has made its appearance in Pacific and Chehalis counties, and in many places the crop is almost an entire failure. The vines grow luxuriantly until the potato is nearly ripe, when they begin to show signs of blight near the root, and in a week the whole vine will be dead. The tuber then stops its growth, and soon begins to decay.

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 8, 1873.

GIVE US THE BEST.

We have said before that we regard the law requiring the adoption of a uniform system of school books throughout the State an unfortunate enactment. We have stated our reasons for this opinion, and in doing so have stated only such as we presume have occurred to the minds of nearly all thoughtful persons who have given the subject any attention, and especially of practical teachers. The item of expense is a very large one, and comes with peculiar force as objection to the entire law just at these pinching times. People can ill afford just now to lay aside all their old school books and purchase an entirely new set for the children. It is about all that many can do to get together money sufficient to pay their ordinary taxes, and this extra burden, amounting, at a very moderate estimate, to $50,000—some say twice that amount—will rest heavily upon them.

But this objection, after all, goes rather to the manner of introducing the uniform books, the suddenness of the change, than to the change itself; the books now in actual use by the children are wearing out at a pretty rapid rate, as every one knows who is either teacher of the school or furnisher of the books. If, therefore, the time within which the introduction is to be completed were of two or three years' duration, as it might well enough have been made, the new books would supply the place as old ones are destroyed until the time when the change could be completed without any appreciable addition to the expense of furnishing books. But these considerations were lost sight of by the Legislature, or else were not deemed of sufficient gravity to influence the action of that body, and we have the uniformity law to meet and to enforce, though it prove an expensive blunder of our legislators.

Having reached this point, what is best to be done? Shall we select our school books with reference to their merits, or with reference to their cheapness? To enforce uniformity will be expensive, no matter what books are chosen, and, we apprehend, will be comparatively little more or less expensive in the aggregate by reason of the number of the books already on hand of any class that may be selected. It cannot be said that the schools of the State are already supplied or nearly supplied with any series of books that have been named. So the new books must be bought at all events. Since, then, the difference in cost cannot amount to a very heavy item one way or another, let us have the best books, by all means.

What books are the best? The teachers are the best judges. The book sometimes controls, to a great extent, the method of instruction; this is an important matter. A few pupils in every district school will make excellent proficiency with any books. They possess intellects that grasp an idea at once, no matter in what form it is presented to them. To such, an opportunity for study is the only requisite to progress. Means and instruments of instruction are of small account. The school affords the opportunity, and these pupils will make progress with any books almost with no books—in their hands. But not such are the majority. In most cases the best skill of the teacher, aided by the most judicious arrangement of the subjects to be taught, is requisite to draw out the powers of the youthful mind and train it to independent action. Every teacher knows how difficult it sometimes is, with all the ingenuity of which he is master, to get the mind of his pupil to comprehend the simplest course of reasoning by which a very simple problem is solved. It is for such pupils that the books should be selected. The "Admirable Crichtons" will get along well enough anyway.

The only works remaining to be adopted are the readers and spellers. The question is, shall we adopt the "Pacific Coast Series?" We are aware there is some opposition to these books, but we must say, upon such examination as we have had time to give them, we should be glad to see them adopted. The gradation of the lessons we regard as admirable, and the selection of matter for reading exercises in the advanced readers it seems to us is very judiciously made. The illustrations, with which the children's readers, First and Second, abound, are very far superior in freshness of design, in perfectness of execution, and far better adapted to attract and please the youthful mind than those of any other readers we have ever seen, and the type is as much better for the primary school than the best of other books that have come under our observation, as we can well imagine. We trust the Board who have to pass upon the matter will take pains to examine these books, before they condemn them, for we feel strongly impressed that much of the opposition to them is not founded upon thorough knowledge.

The Board should avail themselves of every source of information on the subject. They should especially consult the teachers with whom they come in contact. They should discharge their trust with a conscientious appreciation of its importance to the people of the State. Our public schools lie at the foundation of our public intelligence and virtue, and the elevation of the standard of these is the condition precedent upon which the perpetuation of our institutions depends.

"CÆSARISM" FROM A NEW QUARTER.

We are sorry to see a Republican paper of the standing of the Dalles Mountaineer re-echoing the nonsensical inventions of the New York Herald about "Cæsarism." Democratic papers, under the prevailing fashions of journalism, may be excusable for becoming the retailers of such harmful clap-trap, on the score of party necessity; at all events, this would explain their conduct, but it does not apply to the case of the Mountaineer. There is no more evidence that Grant contemplates a third term for the Presidency than that he contemplates resignation before the expiration of the present term. Not a single act of his has been pointed out, or can be, that looks to such a course. On the contrary, so far as we can judge so far in advance about the course that will be pursued, everything indicates that some other person will be the Republican candidate. That some of the Republicans who enjoy patronage at the hands of the President will desire his second re-election may be set down as certain. That they will see the folly of attempting to secure his nomination, and refrain from making any effort in that direction, is altogether likely. That, if they should attempt to bring him out for a third term, they will be silenced by his refusal is morally certain. Journals that are blinded by prejudice may not see that this is the case, but we should not expect the Mountaineer to be deceived.

COURTING EXCOMMUNICATION.

The Dalles Mountaineer, always regarded as one of the most unwavering of Republican party journals, is destined to be read out of the party. That would be a terrible calamity to the Mountaineer, but it must come. There are to-day a half dozen or more persons, engaged in reading people out of the party for less offense than that of the Mountaineer. It may be said that this half dozen can't read anybody out, because they do not constitute the party. Our reply is that they can do it, for they have done it. In fact they have read out a large majority—nearly all except a few raw recruits—and are not they strong enough to read out a minority of one? Certainly they are, and they'll do it.

Do you ask what the Mountaineer has done to bring this disfranchisement upon itself? Enough, in all conscience. We published some time ago an article from this paper showing it to be inclined to the no-party theories that are making such rapid and fateful strides through the nation. That was a bad one, but how does this sound from a Republican paper of the Mountaineer's kind:

> Every day we see a weakening of partyism, and the strengthening of patriotism among the masses of the people. You talk to a man now about "party record," and threaten to "read him out of the party," and he will laugh in your face. There is great vitality in our nation, and abundance of patriotism, that will rally and save the country from Cæsarism. Already the brake is being handled, and the car of State must soon stop on the down grade to destruction. It is not enough that the people are patriotic—their patriotism must be aroused to action and properly directed. The want of it was never lacking in the ancient Greeks and Romans when they lost their liberties. It only remained dormant by reason of the attention of the people being diverted from the affairs of their country. Love of country is a natural instinct in the breast of every human being—it is as natural as the love of parents. Many things have occurred in the past four years to divert the attention of the people from the real situation of affairs. Demagogues and office-seekers have flattered the people by constantly reminding them of their noble patriotism which preserved their nation as a whole—taking care to keep alive and create a bitter feeling of one section of the country against the other—this being their principal political stock in trade—while the work of every true man was and is to establish good-will and harmony between the sections so recently engaged in war. Physical force has done its work—friendship and kindness toward the people of the South can alone inspire them with friendship and love for the North, as like begets like. This pandering and fostering popular prejudices has directed the attention of the people from public affairs, while corruption and plunder has been the order of the day, and gigantic corporations and rings have been formed, and have attached themselves to the body politic, like blood-suckers, drawing the very life blood of the nation. It has become almost a struggle for life. The question is, shall corporations and nominal rings rule the people, or shall the people rule them? If you prefer the former, stick to partyism, and the party lash, and how obsequiously to party discipline. If you would save your country which all love, assert your manhood, and free yourself from party thraldom. Partyism of to-day is but a name—existing without distinct issues—without an object and meaning.

BEFORE AND AFTER THE ELECTION.

The San Francisco Chronicle's ground and lofty tumbling is our theme. Nothing can be more ludicrous than the ease with which it turned its political double summersault on the day after the recent election in California, when it was apparent that Booth and the anti-monopoly party had carried the day. Here are some of its utterances contrasted.

The day before the election:

> The Dolly Varden ticket is a scavenger ticket and has no strength. The fight is between the Republican and Democratic tickets.

The day after the election:

> The result of yesterday's election demonstrates two things: First, that the great mass of intelligent electors of San Francisco are opposed to allowing any corporation to ever interfere in politics; and second, that Governor Booth is firmly fixed in the confidence of the people of San Francisco.

Before the election:

> Every vote given to the Dolly Varden ticket is virtually a vote for the regular Democratic ticket, and a deadly stab at the Republican party in California.

After the election:

> The election turned upon the single issue of the railroad; all other questions were lost sight of and merged into the more engrossing topic.

Before:

> The Dolly Vardens are noisy and brag loud, and some very good men have succeeded in convincing themselves that it will poll a large vote. It will be at the tail of the list, will poll the smallest vote of any in the field, and every Republican who votes for it aids the Democracy.

After:

> If this election shall convince the railroad people that it is impossible for them to wage successfully a war against popular opinion, the lesson will not be unproductive of good results. There is another lesson to be drawn from this election, and that is, that party organization has lost its prestige, and that no party, however strong or however firmly intrenched in power, can safely, oppose the popular will or set at defiance the popular wish.

For general massiveness of cheek that last sentence can defy competition.

THAT VEHEMENT SPEECH.

A day or two after the Polk county Republican Convention, the Bulletin, victimized by some practical joker, published a statement that Judge Boise had offered in that convention a resolution condemning Senator Hipple, and had made a "vehement" speech in support of the resolution which was promptly voted down. Judge Boise published a card saying he was not present at the convention, and of course offered no resolution, nor made any speech. A correspondent whom we know to be reliable, writes us that there was a resolution offered in that convention by Mr. Allen, a Republican member of the last Legislature, as follows:

> Resolved, That we appreciate in the highest degree the great value of the good example of public men who are the representative men of the party. That men who have been guilty of crime should not be trusted in responsible public position, and that those who desert their wives and children, and commit bigamy with other women, are fit only to be Mormons, and are unworthy of any public office.

This letter was supposed to have some reference to our perturbed Senator, though his name was not mentioned. Every member who opposed the adoption of the resolution thought it necessary to explain his vote by saying that they agreed to the sentiments of the resolution, and opposed solely on the ground that it might prove bad policy to adopt it in the County Convention. What sort of position does a United States Senator occupy toward a constituency that feel themselves compelled by considerations of party policy not to allude to his past life!

A VOICE FROM YAMHILL.

The McMinnville Reporter revolts at the rottenness of the Bulletin's code of political morals. As it is the organ of a very considerable constituency of sturdy Republicans its protest is worthy the careful attention of those who propose to dedicate the grand old Republican party to adultery, bigamy and the vagaries of Hippleomania on next Thursday. The Reporter says:

> "And mark the prediction," says the Portland Bulletin, "if a fight is made against him (Mr. Mitchell) he will be sustained by the Republican party of Oregon through its State Convention." This flatulent boast, coming as it does from those who have not, either through shame or discretion, offered one word on the Mitchell subject, would indicate that a new hope has been born all of a sudden; that the Republican party has struck a tune for its State Convention to sing, with full confidence in the singers; or in other words it (the Republican party) thinks it has everything all "fixed up" for the State Convension. With that said party such a prediction as the one named may be verified. With the masses of Republican voters it will fail as sure as the world stands. We have no disposition to harp upon the Mitchell scandall; had dropped it as an obsolete subject long ago, and whatever we now say is invited by Mr. Mitchell's own friends. The most that ever could be done in favor of the painful subject was to remain quiet upon it; and to have it brought out so squarely, with the prediction (decree might be more appropriate) that the Republican party shall sustain its iniquities, is doing an insult to the party and heaping a burden upon it which no party could live under a great while. We want the Republican party to succeed, but not under that banner. If we must accept a course which is void of all ideas of honor or respect for those who would like to be honorable just for the sake of being called a Republican, then good bye old name; we choose, instead, the principles of Republicanism, which are far removed from all such chicanery.

THE POOR MAN'S CARRIAGE.

Mr. John B. Felton, in his speech against Governor Booth, referred to the railway car as "the poor man's carriage." Whereupon the San Francisco Bulletin gives the world an inside view of the poor man's carriage:

> With fares and freights so high that poor men are almost debarred the privilege of passage and transportation, railroad cars are styled "the poor man's carriage." Besides this, let any one describe the poor man's car on railroads. For a seven days' journey, cars without carpet, seats without cushions; not a place for a sick child to lie down day or night; no board for the old and weakly to occupy day or night; no room for change of position; crowded indiscriminately with whites and blacks, with Indians and Chinese, with men, women and children, with old and young, with cultivated minds and manners and vulgar minds and manners—the smoking cars of the train; no wayside tables with provisions in cheap packages for the poor to buy; no anything that can be denied the miserable creature who must travel; and yet by this eloquent champion of the Republican party, this denouncer of one of the best Governors California ever had, called "the poor man's carriage." Reeking with tobacco smoke, deluged with tobacco spittle, filled with people nearly dead, which the calamities of poverty and the railroad Tudors have inflicted, called "the poor man's carriage!"

Pennsylvania Democracy had occasion the other day to touch on the back-pay question, and the way they brought one of their Congressmen up standing must have made his head swim. In the Democratic State Convention the committee on permanent organization recommended Hon. R. Milton Spear for President. One of the old stagers moved a non-concurrence in the report, giving as a reason that Spear, as a member of Congress, had taken back-pay. Getz defended Spear and upheld the back-pay grab, whereupon he was unceremoniously hissed from the floor. Spear hoped that the Convention would not suffer him "to be stabbed in the house of his friends." Subsequently, discovering that there was a disposition on the part of the majority to take a few stabs at him, he withdrew precipitately.

The leaders of the Democracy are already assembling in this city to witness the balloon ascension which is to take place on Tuesday, and in which quite a number of aspirants for Congressional honors are to take prominent parts. The anxiety of the resepective candidates to remain on terra firma has become so great that the price of ready-made button-holes has advanced considerably.

The delegates to the Democratic State Convention are said to be nearly unanimous in their choice of a candidate for Congress; that is, nearly every one wants the nomination.

Adelina Patti was presented at her London benefit with a canoe covered with roses, in delicate acknowledgment of her having successfully paddled her own.

CITY.

DEATH OF MR. WM. CREE.—It is with feelings of sincere sorrow that we announce the death of an old and estimable citizen of Portland in the person of Mr. William Cree, who departed this life at 12 o'clock on Friday night. Mr. Cree had been in quite poor health for some weeks, and notwithstanding his precarious condition had aroused grave apprehensions in the minds of his many friends as to results, none supposed that the messenger of death, who calls both at the cottage and palace and knocks unceremoniously at the door, would come so soon to summon him from the walks of life. But so it was; on Friday night his spirit winged its flight through the dark valley of death to the great unknown, and his absence from our midst was forever sealed. There are but few men who have resided as long in Portland, or whose interests have been so nearly allied and identified with the growth and prosperity of the city as Mr. Cree. He has long been among the most enterprising and estimable of our citizens. Mr. Cree came to Portland in 1853 and has resided here ever since. For many years he was engaged in business, until the accumulations of his industry and the increased value of property yielded him a handsome income and placed him in independent circumstances. Mr. Cree also represented the First Ward in the City Council for three years. Being an old and highly esteemed citizen, his funeral obsequies, which were held yesterday, were attended by a large number of his friends. The funeral took place from the First Presbyterian Church at 2:30 o'clock P. M. An impressive discourse was delivered on the occasion by the Rev. A. L. Lindsley, after which the remains were deposited in the hearse and conveyed to the Lone Fir Cemetery for interment. The pall-bearers were Hon. M. P. Deady, Hamilton Boyd, W. S. Ladd, W. S. Caldwell, D. F. Harrington, S. Blumauer and Judge Wm. Strong. Deceased was aged 48 years, and a native of Ireland. A wife and a large circle of friends survive to mourn his removal from our midst.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—On last Saturday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, while in a delirious condition from the effects of a high fever, Desire Deitz, a well known citizen, walked down the Stark street ferry pontoon, and deliberately plunged into the river, first shouting "Good-bye, boys, forever." He evidently endeavored to keep his head below water, but the strangulation which ensued was too much for him, and he came to the surface entertaining new views on the subject of suicide, and shouted lustily for help. Several persons who were on Front street, and at the rear of the Cosmopolitan Hotel, witnessed the whole affair, and several rushed down to render assistance to the struggling man. A long pole fortunately at hand was extended to Deitz, and by its means he was dragged on to the pontoon, when it was found necessary to roll him for a few minutes to relieve him of the large quantity of water so suddenly absorbed. He was taken in charge by kind friends, and no serious results will accrue from the cold bath. Mr. Deitz has been ill for some time with typhoid fever, and during the high delirium eluded the watchfulness of his friends, and made the attempt above narrated. We are glad to state that he is in a fair way for recovery.

BRICK MARKET.—We are creditably informed that Mr. D. D. Bunnell contemplates soon the erection of a large brick structure, two-stories high, in the burnt district. This new building will be constructed on lots 4 and 8 in block 81. It will be 50 feet wide, and is to extend clear through the block from Front to First streets along Madison. The principal object which Mr. Bunnell has in view in the erection of this building, is to use it as a public market. In consideration of the benefits to accrue to the public, and to the increased value which will attach to individual property, a number of citizens of Portland have consented to contribute something towards this very laudable enterprise. The following gentlemen have each subscribed the sum of $100: H. Failing, W. S. Ladd, Edwin Russell, J. P. O. Lownsdale, P. W. Davis, J. M. Fryer, Walter Moffett, W. W. Page, Lewis Love, C. M. Carter, A. P. Ankeny and E. Milwain. A number of others have likewise promised to assist in a substantial manner the new enterprise. Work will soon begin for the new building.

ON THE ORIFLAMME.—The steamer Oriflamme sailed from San Francisco for this port last Saturday. She brings the following passengers: John Alexander, wife and child, C. F. Conie, N. Baum, H. Abbott, J. Adair, O. B. Davis, J. H. L. Brown, J. W. Duncan and wife, Rev. T. J. Connor and wife, Mrs. G. T. Earl and infant, D. Wall, Mrs. M. Amen, Chas. Kolm, Jos. Freeman, J. West, J. N. Vandergrift, Mrs. W. H. Dolliver, Miss J. McNamara, M. Jacobs, W. M. Diggins, W. M. Barker, H. H. Bell, J. Hatcher, F. Fairford, Dr. W. C. Ledow, Miss E. Thorndike, Jacob Meyer, Miss S. J. Stewart, S. M. Frank, L. Kline, J. H. Stockwell, W. O. Stevenson, wife and infant, Rev. C. Derrick, Miss K. Mountain, A. W. Stratton, Dr. W. W. Grissom, H. M. Stewart, H. Wohler, J. Wisecarver and wife, Judge L. D. Sawyer, Mrs. J. F. Storres, L. Saunders, Mrs. J. T. Brown, I. Nichols, J. H. Kruse, W. T. Palmer, R. E. Williamson and wife.

HALL LEASED.—In a previous issue we alluded to the contract having been let by Mr. Quimby for the erection of a large two-story brick building, at the southwest corner of the block near the intersection of Taylor and First streets. Both the store rooms in the lower story have already been leased in advance to different parties. Up stairs a large hall will be laid off, which has already been rented by the Druids of the city as a lodge room.

CONCERT AND BALL.—During the present week a meeting will be held by the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society, the object of which will be to take into consideration the propriety of giving a grand concert and ball in the course of a few weeks. Nothing as yet has been decided upon, but it is not improbable that the Society will conclude to give the entertainment.

TARGET EXCURSION.—A meeting was held a few evenings since by the Washington Guard, at which it was determined by the Company to hold their annual target excursion. The precise date has not yet been decided upon, but the excursion will probably be held on the 25th of the month.

PERSONAL.

Judge L. D. Sawyer is among the passengers on the incoming steamer.

Hon. O. Humason, of the Dalles, and Hon. Geo. R. Helm, of Albany, are both in the city.

Bishop T. J. Connor, of the United Brethren Church, is among the passengers on the Oriflamme. He is on his return from a visit East, and is accompanied by his wife.

Major Robert is at present down the river. In company with Capt. R. B. Randall, he is engaged in making a hydrographic survey of the channel of the Columbia at the "Hog's Back."

AMUSEMENTS.

On Saturday evening a fair audience greeted the opening performance of Mr. and Mrs. Fulford and Minnie Dixley, assisted by several artistes, who appeared in the drama entitled "Pigeon, the Torment." The old and familiar faces received a hearty reception. The leading parts were well sustained, and the properties and stage effects were managed in good taste. We would suggest that farces and light dramas be performed, which, we think, would give better satisfaction to the auditors. This evening "Pigeon, the Torment" will be placed upon the stage with the full strength of the company. The house should be well filled.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

D. D. Briggs, Washington street, will attend to repairing furniture. We refer to his advertisement in another column.

Mr. A. S. Gross has been reappointed agent in this city for oysters for all parts of the country, as per card under new display. The facilities the company for which he is agent have for the transportation, etc., of oysters are such that they afford dealers an opportunity to sell at a good margin, and besides orders can be filled on order. See card.

LOST OVERBOARD.

THE EARL OF ABERDEEN, OF SCOTLAND, SHIPS AS A SAILOR, AND IS LOST OVERBOARD DURING A STORM.

Several years ago considerable comment was made both by the English and American press in relation to the fate of the young Earl of Aberdeen, of Scotland, who joined a ship sailing from an American port to Melbourne, and was washed overboard and lost during a heavy gale. The circumstances attending the hapless fate of the young Earl, and the steps which were subsequently taken by his family to trace the matter up, and to establish the identity of the nobleman, elicited at the time much newspaper comment. After the identity of the Earl was established, and the circumstances of his death known, the whole affair, which, at the time, created a great sensation among the circles of nobility in England and Scotland, became a thing of the past, and passed from public thought.

At the time it was stated that the Earl had shipped on board the schooner Hera that sailed from Boston, destined for Australia. Our readers are aware ere this that the schooner Hera arrived at Portland a few days ago from San Francisco. Similarity in the name of the vessels brought to our memory the circumstance of the Earl's death, and prompted inquiries in that direction. To our agreeable surprise we ascertained that the vessel now in port was the identical one from which the Earl was lost. Capt. J. H. Kent, the present master of the Hera, is the same gentleman who had charge of the vessel at the time the unfortunate young man was swept overboard and lost. In an interview yesterday with Capt. Kent we obtained the following particulars of the sad occurrence:

In the winter of 1870, a few days before the schooner Hera, which was lying at Boston, sailed for Melbourne a tall, fair-complexioned young man made application to Capt. Kent for the position of first mate of the vessel. As there was a vacancy existing at the time, and the young sailor came well recommended, and evinced, on examination, abundant qualifications for the position, Capt. Kent employed him. Nothing further was known of the young sailor than that he was a native of Scotland and well connected. On the 4th of January, 1870, the articles of shipping were signed and the young sailor entered upon the duties of his new position. He gave his name as George Hamilton Osborne, and was so entered upon the articles. On the 20th of January the anchor was weighed and the Hera sailed away for Melbourne. A terrific gale arose on the 26th and continued through the entire day and night. Early on the morning of the 27th, Osborne, while standing on the deck attending to his duties, was washed overboard. Capt. Kent was standing some distance aft and saw Osborne swept away. He shouted to the men, "A man overboard!" and instantly ropes and pieces of lumber were thrown to Osborne. But he had evidently sustained some severe injuries from the violence of the waves as he was washed overboard, for he appeared perfectly paralyzed, and when lines and plank were thrown to him he made no effort to save himself. As Osborne was washed back, Capt. Kent, who was standing far aft, grasped for him, as he was but a few feet away. He was unable, however, to reach him, and the poor fellow was carried off and forever swept from sight. A very heavy cross sea was running at the time, and the effort which was made to rescue Osborne by lowering a boat proved unavailing. He was carried away at 4 o'clock in the morning, and the vessel remained in the vicinity until half-past eight. Seeing no traces of the lost man, the Hera continued her course to Melbourne.

Meantime the father of the young Earl had died at his home in Scotland on the 13th of January—just the day before the young scion of nobility had joined the crew of the Hera. Three years previous to the death of the elder Earl of Aberdeen, the son left Scotland and came over to Richmond, Maine. Six months after landing on American soil the young Earl joined a vessel as a common sailor. After serving in that capacity for some months, he shipped on another vessel as first mate. Some months afterward, he resigned that position and soon became master of a small coasting schooner. All this time he was traveling incog, his position in society and his title by inheritance never being dreamed of. Being the eldest of three sons he came into possession of the title and estates by the death of his father. Immediately after the death of the Earl, a Mr. Tudor, accompanied by the family lawyer, came over to Richmond in quest of the son. Not finding him there, inquiries were made, and the young Earl was traced to Boston. There they found, to their surprise, that he had shipped, a short time before, on the Hera, for Australia, under the name of Osborne. Mr. Tudor and the lawyer now began to trace up the matter in good earnest. It was soon ascertained that Osborne was lost overboard, seven days out from Boston. Proofs being required as to the manner of his death and the identity of Osborne, the parties came to San Francisco, determined to proceed from there to Hongkong, where it was expected that the Hera would touch on the return from Melbourne. But the vessel was chartered to carry a cargo directly to Halifax, and the lawyer and Mr. Tudor, being so notified, did not sail for Hongkong, but proceeded straight to Halifax, where they met, for the first time, Capt. Kent. From that gentleman they learned the particulars concerning the death of the Earl. By a leaf from the log book of the Hera, and also a photograph which Capt. Kent had in his possession, the identity of the young Earl was established beyond all question. A number of little trinkets—gold pen-holder, knife, etc.—were likewise produced and recognized at once by the mother of the young man.

Many conjectures were indulged as to the real motives which prompted the young nobleman to assume a fictitious name, to brave the dangers and privations incident to the sea, and to adopt the rough life of the sailor. High-born, descending from some of the best and noblest blood of Scotland, the inheritor of immense landed estates, it appeared strange that he should voluntarily forego all the luxuries and pleasures connected with his social position, and follow such an uncongenial calling. But, even in this strange choice, the young Earl was actuated by none but the purest of motives. He had so often heard and read of the brutalities and cruelties practiced upon seamen that he determined to follow the sailors' calling for a few years. By concealing his name and title, and shipping "before the mast," he would be required to undergo all the hardships incident to the occupation, and would thus be enabled to determine from experience the truth or falsity of these commonly received reports. He fell, as the sequel shows, a martyr to his strange curiosity.

Considerable delay occurred in proving the death of the young Earl, and in clearly establishing his identity. At the time it was stated by the press that these things alone cost the sum of 200,000 pounds sterling. The title and estates all passed into the possession of the youngest son. There were three sons. The oldest was lost at sea, as above stated, and the second accidentally shot himself while out hunting, and died from the effects of the wounds. The youngest, being the only surviving son, inherited the title and vast estates, into the possession of which the oldest would have come had he lived. After delays, trouble and great expense everything was settled, and the youngest son became the Earl of Aberdeen in June, 1871.

Probably no vessel ever touched at this port having been connected in a similar manner with as important historical and romantic incident as the Hera. We do not think any vessel has ever before landed at Portland which claimed to have lost overboard so great a scion of nobility as the Earl of Aberdeen. Altogether considered, it is a rather strange story and reminds one forcibly of some of those incidents of fiction of which all have read. The strangest thing of all is that it is true in every particular.

No man should be without a good suit of clothing while BECK & WALDMAN are offering goods at remarkably low prices. You will be astonished when you take a look at their stock, which has been and is being increased to such an extent that more space must be had to give place to the new arrivals. Don't wait, but improve the opportunity to invest at the present time. You will never regret your purchases of Beck & Waldman, S. W. cor. of Washington and Front streets.

IMITATORS AND THEIR SCHEMES come to grief at last. Only original discoveries like that of Dr. Helmbold, stand the test of time. Helmbold's Buchu which is the only extract of that wonderful shrub that realizes its full virtues, is still relied upon to cure Kidney Complaint, Female disorders, Impotency, Gravel, the effects of dissipation and all troubles of the urinary organs in either sex. This steadily successful medicine is recommended by physicians. Beware of counterfeits. John F. Henry, New York, Sole Agent.

NEGLECTED COUGHS AND COLDS.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "common Cold" in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to "Brown's Bronchial Troches" if neglected, often works upon the Lungs.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The State Board of Equalization will meet today at Salem.

The East Portland Band are thinking of going to the State Fair.

Eleven new box cars have just been finished for the west side road.

Work on the Government wharf at Vancouver will begin today.

Emmet Guard will probably hold a target excursion before the 1st of October.

Tom Johnson, who was injured at the August 2d fire, walks about lively now.

Captain McGrath, of the Washington Guard, that used to be, is now in San Francisco.

Considerable quantities of gold dust are being brought down by Chinamen from east of the mountains.

The new house of Mr. Beck, the clothier, on Seventh and Oak streets, will be completed within a month.

A select number of persons will "trip the light fantastic" at the hall of the City Rifles on Wednesday evening.

There is some talk among the members of the People's Protective Alliance of getting up a grand ball for the benefit of the Society.

The cuts of the fire in Harper's Weekly are very good. They haven't corrected that item about Sam Lowenstein. He isn't quite dead yet.

The Josie McNear has taken the place of the Emma Hayward on the Portland-Astoria route. The latter boat will be used for lightering purposes.

Primary No. 1, Anti-Chinese Society, of East Portland, will give a ball on the east side on the 19th—the East Portland Band providing the music.

Hacheney & Stenane, grocers, will occupy quarters in the new building in course of construction on the northwest corner of Taylor and First streets.

COOS BAY ITEMS.

Our valued correspondent at Empire City, writing under date of Sept. 2d, says:

Shipment of coal for the past week, 650 tons; lumber, 50 M feet.

The Circuit Court, Judge Mosher presiding, will meet at this place on next Monday.

H. H. Luse and family have gone to Portland. Mr. Luse is one of our most prominent merchants.

The barkentine Emma Augusta arrived within the past week, and the departures were the propeller Eastport and schooner Active.

The new boiler for the propellor Ago is of Portland manufacture. She is lying at Scottsburg at present, at which place the boiler will be put on her.

The amount of property assessed in this county for 1873, and returned to the county Court by the Assessor, is $790,123, an increase of $273,043 over last year. The number of persons liable to pay poll tax is 795, an increase of 223 over last year.

Capt. William Tichenor, of Port Orford, is "swinging round the circle" with a petition to Congress to have Port Orford made a port of refuge. He is now at this place getting signers to his petition. He thinks that if the Democrats will nominate him for Congress that he can be elected without doubt.

Nat. H. Lane, S. S. Douglas and others, have commenced the construction of a stern-wheel steamboat at Marshfield, to run on Coos Bay in opposition to the steamer Satellite. We understand that the new boat will be one hundred feet long and twenty feet beam. They expect to have the boat completed by the last of November.

Last Wednesday, the 27th ult., Robert Hall, aged 36, and Henry Hall, aged 15, brothers, were killed at Flanagan & Mann's coal mine. They were miners at that bank and were at work in a room by themselves when a part of the roof of the room fell upon them. Robert Hall was a married man, and his family live at the coal bank.

Both political parties held their convention here last Saturday and elected Delegates to their respective State Conventions. The Republican Delegates are Messrs. D. Bushey, Jo. Cisena, and D. B. Keating; those of the Democracy are W. H. Harris, F. G. Lockhart and Thos. B. Merry. The last two are favorable to the cause of Gen. Nesmith, while Captain Harris is for Capt. Tichenor, of Port Orford. The Republican Delegates are reported to be in favor of Jas. F. Watson, Esq., of Douglas.

The threatened inundation of the country around Matacona, Peru, by the damming of the river Rimac, is not likely now to take place. It is estimated that millions of cubic yards of earth were displaced by the slide, which dammed the river to the hight of 800 feet. The water in the river has risen to the hight of the obstruction and flows over steadily, descending into its former bed. Three lives were lost.

Treasurer Spinner has written a letter to a member of Congress on the back-pay question. He says: "I doubt whether ever in the conveying of this money without consideration and without legal authority or warrant of law, it will place it beyond the reach of the parties to whom it legally belongs. I think it could be reclaimed at any time hereafter in several ways, and even on the mere statement of an account by a deposition or by his heirs-at-law against the United States for moneys had and received. It is possible you might yourself by last will and testament, stating as a consideration the love and affection you bore your native land."

TO THE PUBLIC.

We are now getting on the way a new and fresh stock of fine furniture, which will be superior in quality and newer in design than the one destroyed by the fire, and which we will offer for sale on advantageous terms. Meanwhile, we are well prepared to supply the present demand from our temporary location, corner of Fifth and Taylor streets, near the U. S. Custom House. Respectfully,

How do You Feel?

The fervid heats of summer are now over. In what condition have they left you? Is your liver torpid or disordered, your appetite feeble, your digestion imperfect or painful, your nervous system shaky, your mind lethargic? This is the state in which the autumn finds tens of thousands of us and in this state we are ripe for the malarious fevers and bowel complaints, and bilious diseases, which the heavy dews, the vapors and the vast difference between the temperature of night and day are apt to engender. Rouse yourself from this condition with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Wake up the latent vitality of the body, which only requires the stimulating, strengthening and regulating agency of this quickly, vegetable restorative to enable it to resume its activity and potency. AN IMPARTIAL CRITIC.

A correspondent of the Pittsburg Leader, after speaking in high praise of the management of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, says:

The Northern Pacific railroad is the best constructed and smoothest-running new road that I have ever ridden upon, and as I rode over the newest part of it—from Bismarck, on the Missouri, to Fargo, on the Red river of the North—two hundred miles, on the cowcatcher, I had an unobstructed view and fair opportunity to aid me in arriving at an unprejudiced opinion.

In what I have said concerning the road and its present management, I am not influenced by favors past, present or prospective, for not one of the gentlemen mentioned had the most remote idea that his official personality would form a paragraph in the Leader. I think it best that men in places of trust should not know when they are passing in review before one who observes to make a record of what he sees, because then they are seen in their natural role, and not gotten up for the occasion. In the days of Augustus Cæsar the poets were the reporters of the faults and follies of the Romans, as well as their virtues, and sometimes their satires were public scourges to flagellate the vices out of the Roman epidermis, and as it was a Roman law, that dangerous cattle should have a bunch of hay tied on the horn to warn all of their propensity to toss up the unwary; so it came to be said of a poet, "Cave! foenum habet in cornu," which means in liberal modern translation, "Look out for your trouserloons, that fellow has hay on his horn," and the professional reporter, the satirist of modern peccadilloes, is often made much of for the purpose of securing his approbation, or blunting the nib of his pencil, when writing of shortcomings, if he informs the subjects of his notes that he is about to press-ograph them for the public eye.

COLEMAN'S EUCALYPTUS

Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation combining all the valuable medical qualities of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medical utility, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY ORGANS, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, ETC.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco, in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 405 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies of those diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS, Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1-lb bottles.

EUCALYPTUS Beware of Imitations, and take none but COLEMAN'S. For sale everywhere, and by HODGE, CALEF & CO., Wholesale Druggists, Portland, Sole Agents for Oregon.

THE FABLES OF ZAMBRI THE PARSEE

[illegible]

I.

The author who had wrought a book of fables the merit whereof true scented expression was peacefully sleeping atop of the modest eminence to which he had attained when he was rudely awakened by a throng of critics emitting adverse judgment upon the tales he had built.

"Apparently," said he, "I have been guilty of some small grains of unconsidered wisdom and the same have proven a bitterness to these excellent folk, the which they will not abide. Ah! well those who produce the Strasburg pate and the feather pillow are prone to regard us as rival creators. I presume it is in course of nature for him who grows the pen to censure the manner of its use."

So speaking he executed a smile a hand's breadth in extent and resumed his airy dream of dropping ducats.

Moral: As above.

II.

"What have you there on your back?" said a zebra jeeringly to a 'ship of the desert' in ballast.

"Only a bale of gridirons," was the meek reply.

"And what pray may you design doing with them?" was the incredulous rejoinder.

"What am I to do with gridirons?" repeated the camel contemptuously. "Nice question for you—who have evidently come of one."

People who wish to throw stones should not live in glass houses, but there ought to be a few in their vicinity.

III.

A man pursued by a lion was about stepping into a place of safety when he bethought him of the power of the human eye and turning about he fixed upon his pursuer a steady look of stern reproof. The raging beast immediately moderated his rate per hour and finally came to a dead halt within a yard of the man's nose. After making a leisurely survey of him he extended his neck and bit off a small section of the victim's thigh.

"Beard of Arimanes!" roared the man, "have you no respect for the human eye?"

"I hold the human eye in profound esteem," replied the lion, "and I confess its power. It [illegible] don't [illegible] why you should have two and I none."

With that he raised his foot unsheathed his claws, and [illegible] one of the gentleman's visual [illegible] to his own mouth.

"Now," continued he, during the brief remainder of a [illegible] existence, your lion quelling [illegible], being more highly concentrated, will be the more easily managed."

He then devoured the remnant of his victim including the other eye.

This tale seems to imply the falsity of certain accepted belief. [It is, therefore, insulting.—Translator.]

IV.

An ant laden with a grain of corn which he had acquired with infinite toil was breasting a current of his fellows, each of whom, as is the [illegible], [illegible] him, feeling him all over, and shaking hands. It occurred to him that an [illegible] of ceremony is an abuse of courtesy. So he laid down his burden sat upon it, folded all his legs tight to his body, and smiled a smile of great grimness.

"Hullo! What's the matter with you?" exclaimed the first insect whose overtures were declined.

"Sick of the hollow conventionalities of a rotten civilization," was the rasping reply. "Relapsed into the honest simplicity of primitive observances. Go to grass!"

"Ah! then we must trouble you for that corn. In a condition of primitive simplicity there are no rights of property you know. These are hollow conventionalities."

A light dawned upon the intellect of that pismire. He shook the reefs out of his legs, he scratched the reverse of his ear, he gripped that cereal and trotted away like a giant refreshed. It was observed that he submitted with a wealth of patience to manipulation by his friends and neighbors, and went some distance out of his way to shake hands with strangers on competing lines of traffic.

Nevertheless this fable does not teach that social observances are always—or even commonly—grounded in good sense. If it did that would make it true.

V.

A snake who had lain torpid all winter in his hole took advantage of the first warm day to limber up for the spring campaign. Having tied himself into an intricate knot, he was so overcome by the warmth of his own body that he fell asleep, and did not wake until [illegible]. In the darkness he was unable to [illegible] his tail, and so could not dis[illegible] and slide into his hole. Per consequence, he froze to death.

[illegible] A [illegible] philosopher has failed to [illegible] himself, owing to his inability to [illegible] his beginning and his end.—Tr. Hm.

A GOOD COUNTRY FOR SENSATION.—An Indian newspaper published in the province of Oude, contains the following strange story. Very recently a native having ornaments on her person worth 400 or 500 rupees accompanied by her daughter, who also wore ornaments worth about 200 rupees alighted from the train at Hurdui and hired an ekka to convey them to their village. On arriving at a lonely spot six miles from Hurdui, there being no villages within miles the ekka drew up at the side of the road and the driver suddenly demanded the whole of the jewelry to be given up to him. On being refused he tied the woman and the girl up to the ekka and divested them of every article. He then drew a knife with the intention of murdering them, but in the excitement of the moment let the weapon fall into a ditch about three feet deep. He jumped down and was just in the act of clutching at the knife when a black snake darted from a hole and fixed its fangs in his hand. Knowing the snake to be an extremely venomous one he fell down almost senseless with terror and died in a few minutes. The woman and girl remained there about two hours when seeing some villagers at a distance, they screamed for assistance and on being released gave information at the nearest thanah. The police came to the spot and found the corpse of the ekka driver and the snake still there. The corpse was taken to the nearest station for an inquest to be held; the snake was blocked in its hole with a large stone as the police had not the courage to kill it. The ornaments were found tied up in the [illegible] of the corpse and were restored to their owners.

A new cholera preventive is suggested by a French newspaper the Journal de [illegible], in the form of silk shirts. It says that the well to do Chinese protect themselves absolutely from epidemics by wearing these garments and it recommends the manufacture of a silk fabric for the purpose which will be cheap enough for all to obtain. As the Journal de [illegible] is the organ of the silk interests in France this suggestion may possibly [illegible] for sanitary as for commercial reasons.

Totals	[illegible]	[illegible]

The coinage of Trade Dollars is now for [illegible] and principally for circulation in China and Japan with the view of increasing the demand for the large quantities of silver turned out by the mines which has hitherto been shipped in the form of bullion. The Philadelphia Mint has made a shipment of similar coin to London. It is hoped these efforts to meet the wants of foreign markets will be properly appreciated so that our Mints may be actively employed. The small amount of our silver coinage turned out during this year is noteworthy. There is evidently less demand for that kind of coin on this coast since the introduction of the Gold Note system here. This month the San Francisco Mint will be busy on small gold and silver coins.

Ship-Building.

The immense sum of money annually paid by the producing classes of our country to the carriers of their products gives the question of transportation and the matters connected with it an importance that in a pecuniary point of view but few other subjects have. And we learn of nothing more encouraging in the prospects of the United States at this time than the revival of her ship building interests. The whole number of new merchant vessels reported to the Bureau of Statistics at Washington and to which official numbers were assigned from June 1st to August 9th 1873 was 90. Of course many of these were small in capacity but a large number were first class in size and naval architecture. It is admitted beyond the possibility of doubt that America excels all other nations in the quality of the vessels turned out from its ship yards for coast and river service while the number of such vessels employed will certainly equal if not exceed those used by the rest of the world combined. That the demand for this class of vessels is steadily increasing daily becomes more apparent as can be witnessed by the increased activity in the various ship building yards of the East. It is also gratifying to notice that the ship-building yards on the Delaware, and on the coast of New England, are once more employed in the building of both iron and wooden ships for the purposes of ocean traffic. During the past few months where previously in many of the yards silence and inactivity prevailed, is now heard the cheering sound of the shipwright's mallets while thousands of workmen are busily pursuing their various avocations incidental to the work of construction of ships destined to inaugurate a new era of competition with other nations and which will, it is hoped, once more place American shipping in such a condition as to be able to secure to her citizens some of the profits arising from her immense exportation which is now absorbed by [illegible]. That this revival of the interest and general prosperity of our shipbuilding is due to the necessity of providing for the transport of the agricultural and manufactured products of the United States the demand for which by transatlantic countries is daily increasing there can be no question. And that this cause will in a few years tend once more to place America in the fore most rank as to the extent and capacity of her mercantile marine is equally certain.

The question, however, which most concerns the people of this coast is whether with their extraordinary facilities for this branch of industry, they shall always be under tribute to the ship builders of the East while the iron mines and splendid forests remain undeveloped and unused. The attraction of the careful attention of some of the prominent ship builders of the country to the northwest coast will be the beginning of a new era in her commercial history which will be characterized as that of her greatest prosperity.

Freights at New York.

A remarkable feature connected with the shipping interests of New York at the present time is the extraordinary high rates obtained for freight as well as the unprecedented number of vessels that have arrived from foreign ports in ballast, during the past two months all of which have been eagerly chartered on the moment of their arrival. It is also said that another large fleet is expected to arrive shortly, but all about which any advices have been received or that are known to be coming here have their cargoes set aside for them. In fact to such an extent has the demand increased for vessels that sailing ships now loading at the docks have already been chartered for the next voyage, notwithstanding the fact that by the time they can return the canals and some of the rivers must necessarily be closed by the ice. Another curious feature is that vessels which are to arrive, and that are the furthest off being due, command a higher price than those close to hand or that are already in port. The Times says the rates for grain are at least one shilling to one shilling, and sixpence higher than last year the average price being nine shillings sixpence to ten shillings per quarter call for orders United Kingdom, and ten per cent. extra for the Continent. For next voyage the rates are eight shillings to eight and sixpence per quarter. For steamers now loading, and close at hand the rates are ten shillings and eleven, twelve for the Continent. Steamers to arrive later command [illegible] a shilling higher. It is said that any quantity of vessels could be chartered at these or even higher rates.

LYON'S KATHAIRON

Only 50 Cents per Bottle.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek "Kathro," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the GROWTH and BEAUTY of the HAIR. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the SAME in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only 50 Cents per Bottle.

SMALL POX.

DOCTOR BORZFAUS SMALL POX REMEDY. SAMUEL CORWIN Proprietor can be procured at all the Drug Stores in this city at the present time. As this medicine is proving an inestimable boon to those afflicted with that disease no person should neglect the present opportunity of providing themselves with this valuable antidote.

Price ONE DOLLAR per bottle

Portland Oregon Aug 22 1873

MR SAMUEL CORWIN—Sir In justice to yourself and for the benefit of those who may be afflicted with the small pox I am induced to give you the following facts. About the 20th of July 1873 I became very unwell having severe pain in my head back and limbs which continued to increase in severity for three or four days a very high fever set in and I began to break out on my face neck and body with what proved to be small pox. I procured of Dr Frechand of the Central Drug Store a bottle of your small pox remedy. Notwithstanding the severity of the attack I administered the medicine myself according to directions with accompanying treatment but in about double doses. In three days all pain and fever disappeared. My recovery was extremely rapid notwithstanding frequent exposures by moving about from place to place while in a high fever which is generally considered fatal in that disease and it is my firm conviction that under the ordinary treatment for that disease I would not be living to day. I took of the medicine about two and a half bottles or perhaps [illegible] twisting to discontinue until a thorough cure was effected.

PETER BURK.

I know of my own knowledge that the foregoing statement is true in every particular.

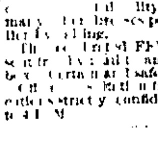
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY NEAR COMMERCIAL

San Francisco. Established 1854 for the treatment of [illegible] and Seminal Diseases, [illegible] Gonorrhea, Gleet, Syphilis in all its forms, Weakness, Impotency, etc. Diseases of years standing. Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his dispensary 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and others requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has [illegible] increased facilities for the alleviation of suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence or from virus absorbed into the system! Let [illegible] pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and broken down constitutions disqualify [illegible] the happiness of marriage of the enjoyment [illegible] In this horrid situation thousands suffer [illegible] close the scene. Let parents, guardians, [illegible] and to those who are suffering with any horrible life destroying maladies [illegible] dare [illegible] and cured before it be too late [illegible] immediately to DR GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for [illegible] and who is certain to cure the most inveterate [illegible] without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their [illegible] careful of the many pretended doctors who [illegible] publishing their skill in curing all [illegible] in a few days imposing upon the public by the names of eminent physicians from [illegible] other places. Be therefore careful and [illegible] inquiry or you may fall into the hands of charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of [illegible] This solitary vice or depraved sexual [illegible] practiced by the youth of both sexes to an unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, [illegible] combatted by scientific medical means [illegible] low countenance dark spots under the [illegible] the head ringing in the ears noise like the [illegible] of leaves and rattling of chariots [illegible] the loins, weakness of the limbs [illegible] blunted intellect, loss of confidence, [illegible] approaching strangers a dislike to form acquaintances disposition to shun society, loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and [illegible] tions about the face, furred tongue, [illegible] coughs consumption, night sweats [illegible] frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained apply immediately either in person or by [illegible] have a cure effected by his new and [illegible] of treating this disease, which never fails of [illegible] ing a quick and radical cure.
